Dispute Over Ban On Red Airfields Holding Up Truce

By DON HUTH
MUNSAN, Korea — (AP)—The Communists today submitted a new counterproposal agreeing to all Allied terms for supervising a Korean armistice except a ban on rebuilding Red airfields. The U. N. command promptly rejected the compromise.

The future of Red airfields is the basic point of dispute. "There is no major disagreement still existing except that of airfields," said Maj. Gen. Howard M. Turner, U. N. negotiator. "That has been the major disagreement throughout."

Other Demands Accepted
The Communist counterproposal formally accepted Allied demands for troop rotation, replenishment of supplies, and supervision of the truce by neutrals.

Paul Voorhies Dies Suddenly
DETROIT—(AP)—Funeral services will be held here tomorrow for Paul W. Voorhies, former attorney general of Michigan.

Voorhies died of a heart attack Tuesday at the age of 76. The former public official was best known in recent years as head of the Kresge foundation. He served as a trustee and president of the foundation that poured out millions of dollars for education and other philanthropic work.

Detroit Commandery No. 1, Knights Templar, will conduct service for its former commander at 2 p. m., Thursday in Metropolitan Methodist church.

Voorhies was elected attorney general in 1930 and served one term in the administration of former Gov. Wilbur M. Brucker. He had served as Wayne county prosecutor in 1920 and 1922.

In the 1930s, Voorhies served as special prosecutor in an investigation of the slaying of radio newscaster Jerry Buckley here.

Voorhies was active in the Republican party and was known for his diplomacy in reconciling party factions.

Fugitive Mobster Mike Selik Faces 115 Years In Prison

DETROIT—(AP)—At the age of 38, Myron (Mike) Selik faces a possible maximum of 115 years in prison.

The former Detroit mobster pleaded guilty in Federal district court yesterday to a fugitive charge. He fled Michigan with Harry Fleisher in 1948.

Selik and Fleisher jumped $50,000 bond to avoid serving time in a Pontiac night club robbery and a conspiracy to murder State Sen. Warren G. Hooper. Hooper, a state graft witness, was slain from ambush Jan. 11, 1945.

Home Building Gets Cut; Auto Outlook Better

By STERLING F. GREEN
WASHINGTON — (AP)—Production of more household goods—such things as television sets, radios, refrigerators, electric irons and other appliances—is due to be cut to 45 per cent of the pre-Korea levels in the quarter year beginning April 1. This would be 10 per cent below present permitted production rates.

This announcement came today from Manly Fleischmann, the defense production administrator, who also said that automobile production is to be curtailed by at least 7 per cent for the second quarter of this year.

The number of new railroad cars to be produced will be reduced about 14 per cent, he testified. He said there would be some increase in shipbuilding but that only the most important new highways could be built.

The Senate-House committee is headed by Senator Maybank (D-SC).

Maybank said his group wanted to make sure the mobilization agencies are earmarking for civilian production as much steel and other scarce materials as possible.

Pinch On Civilians
Members of the joint committee also sought details on the "period of severest pinch" for civilians, which Wilson says has begun and will last into 1953.

Part of the information already was out. Auto production will be trimmed to 900,000 passenger cars and 240,000 trucks in the quarter starting April 1. This was well below the 1,200,000 cars and 240,000 trucks planned for the quarter.

Home building is due for a cut. Henry H. Fowler, the new head of the National Production Authority, told reporters yesterday that the shortage of plumbing, hardware and other building supplies will not permit a continuance of the present rate—about 850,000 homes a year.

Officials now are working on plans to reduce the number of residential "starts," Fowler said. Otherwise, builders may begin construction and then find it impossible to finish.

Decision Reviewed
A cut of perhaps 100,000 is indicated for 1952. More specific details, and methods by which a reduction can be brought about, will be discussed by Fowler with representatives of the construction industry in a meeting here today.

Automobiles had been earmarked tentatively for only enough copper—the bottleneck metal in automobile production—for 800,000 cars. Officials of the leading companies and the CIO United Automobile Workers protested to Wilson that this would aggravate already serious unemployment in Detroit.

Wilson and Fleischmann agreed to review the decision ten days ago. The result became known last night when Senator Moody (D-Mich) told reporters that NPA will permit production of 900,000 cars, as against 930,000 in the present quarter, and 240,000 trucks as compared with 260,000.

From official sources, it was learned that NPA will permit a higher rate of production if the manufacturers can substitute steel for copper to a greater extent in radiators and other parts.

Cancer Claims Beauty Queen
ATLANTA—(AP)—A four-year fight against cancer has ended in death for a 19-year-old high school beauty queen whose shattered romance with a young sailor touched a nation's heart.

Dark-haired, dark-eyed Betty Thompson died late yesterday afternoon, valiant to the end.

Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Thompson, of suburban East Point, said Betty had been growing weaker steadily for the past three weeks. She was conscious until about four hours before she died.

To the very last she was stout-hearted. "I am ready to die," Betty told her family yesterday. "Don't break down or grieve for me when I am gone."

The disease made it necessary to amputate her right leg in 1949. Last May her doctor told her she was incurably ill. A little later, Betty broke her engagement to Tom Amburn, her 19-year-old sailor sweetheart of Sioux Falls, S. D.

"I'm not mad at him," Betty said soon after Tom came to visit her from the Naval Station at Norfolk, Va. "But I think it best to end our engagement under the circumstances. I love Tom, just like I love everybody else."

Legislature Faces Threat Of $100,000,000 Deficit

Truman Asks Congress To Forget Political Fights As War Looms

By ERNEST B. VACCARO
WASHINGTON — (AP)—President Truman proposed to Congress today that it join him in an election year armistice on "political fights" which might endanger the national interest at a time when all men walk "in the shadow of a third world war."

He declared "we are moving through a perilous time" with Soviet Russia steadily increasing its armed might, and "all of us—Republicans and Democrats alike—all of us are Americans; and we are going to sink or swim together."

Grave Danger Ahead
"The United States and the whole free world are passing through a period of grave danger," he said.

"Every action you take here in Congress, and every action I take as President," Mr. Truman told a joint meeting of senators and representatives, "must be measured against the test of whether it helps to meet that danger."

"We have a great responsibility to conduct our political fights in a manner that does not harm the national interest."

In a "State of The Union" message of unusual gravity, delivered in person in the House chamber, the President even left open the question of how much, if any, new increases in taxes he will ask in his economic and budget messages.

High Taxes Essential
He said only that the country must have "high taxes" over the next few years and that they must be "shared among the people as fairly as possible."

Since the outbreak of the Korean war in June, 1950, Congress has voted three tax bills increasing revenues by an estimated $15,642,000,000, making the total tax load about $63,700,000,000 for the current fiscal year ending June 30. The total is expected to rise as much as three billion more in fiscal 1953 as the nation experiences the full force of the latest raise, voted last fall.

And he asked for this year only those "fair deal" measures he said will "contribute most to defense." At the same time, he included his controversial civil rights proposals among them, asking they be permitted to come to a vote.

Mr. Truman said he will recommend shortly—presumably in his budget message later this month, "some increases" in size of the armed forces which he said now total nearly 3,500,000 men.

These increases will involve "particular emphasis on air power," he said, and will mean "large-scale production of planes and other equipment for a longer period of time than we had originally planned."

He warned that the military demands for steel, aluminum, copper, nickel and other scarce materials will bring sharp cutbacks in civilian goods during the next two years of "peak" defense production.

But, he said, the cutbacks "will be nothing like those during World War II, when much civilian production was completely stopped."

Capt. Carlsen's Ship Drifts In Rough Sea 50 Miles From Goal

LONDON—(AP)—Mountainous waves threatened to write the end of the Flying Enterprise saga today, and almost swept Capt. Kurt Carlsen into the sea he has defied for 13 days.

The American freighter, broken loose from its tug, was being smashed mercilessly 30 miles off the English coast as Carlsen and his lone companion, Kenneth Dancy, tried to make fast a new line. The Enterprise was sinking a little every hour and at times the wallowing hulk, almost on its side, seemed in imminent danger of turning upside down.

Prospects Not Favorable
The towing with the tug Turmoil broke at 1:30 a. m. For the next 13 hours, whenever the waves would permit, Carlsen and Dancy made ready to get another rig aboard. Then, shortly before 3 p. m., they barely saved themselves from going overboard.

The U. S. Destroyer Willard Keith, standing by, reported: "Carlsen and Dancy narrowly escaped being swept into sea while at bow of Enterprise attempting re-rig."

"Unable to pass tow this weather which believe typical of this area, therefore outlook not favorable immediate future."

Veteran tugmen at the scene gave the enterprise only a 50-50 chance of reaching dock as dusk descended.

Cling Like Monkeys
At New York, the Isbrandtsen Company, owners of the Flying Enterprise, said the ship would not have become a multi-million dollar derelict subject to salvage even if Capt. Henrik Kurt Carlsen had left her.

A spokesman said the company, by arranging for the tug Turmoil to tow the vessel to port, still held possession of the ship.

He said he believed that Capt. Carlsen's refusal to abandon the Governor Refuses To Fire Col. Layle As Quartermaster

LANSING—(AP)—Governor Williams today reprimanded Herbert F. Layle, state quartermaster general, but refused to remove him from office.

The reprimand, the governor said, was for "acts of misconduct." He declined to fire Layle because "confused and disorganized command was in part responsible for his misconduct."

The governor announced plans to shake up the state military board and to appoint a special commission to study the top command organization of the state military establishment.

Williams Will Ask Profits Tax On Corporations

Lawmakers Receive Bad News Early

By JACK I. GREEN

LANSING—(AP)—Michigan's 66th legislature convened at 12 noon today to pick its way through an election year session darkened by threats of a $100,000,000 state deficit.

The House polled 89 members and the Senate 30 as the lawmakers assembled for their first even year annual session under a new constitutional amendment requiring them to meet each January.

Bills Pile Up
Seventy-eight Senate and 87 House bills were introduced immediately and more than 100 others measures awaited filing.

The lawmakers were told the state's general fund will be at least $100,000,000 in the red by the end of the next fiscal year if new taxes are not imposed.

House Republicans scheduled an afternoon conference to stir enthusiasm for a plan to get the legislative work out of the way early to permit the scheduled April 15 adjournment.

Tomorrow morning, the legislature's initial organizational steps cleared, Governor Williams will appear to read his message of recommendations. His major plea will be again for a corporation profits tax to solve the mounting deficit.

Budget Falls Short
Williams gave the lawmakers the bad news early.

On their desks as they assembled were his budget recommendations, calling for the state to spend $354,354,410 for general purposes in the next fiscal year starting July 1. This is about $42,000,000 more than in the current year.

The recommended budget would be $52,500,000 in the red on the basis of income expected.

Including special purposes, mostly aid to local governments, the total general fund budget would be $529,614,612.

Since the state is reported to be $40,900,000 in the red already and the deficit is estimated to reach $53,000,000 by the end of this fiscal year, the new budget would be $529,614,612.

Russian Proposal For Top-Level UN Peace Talks Lost

PARIS—(AP)—The United Nations political committee today smothered a Soviet attempt to force Korean truce negotiations to be taken up by a special high-level meeting of the security council.

The vote was 50 to 6 with 11 abstentions.

The 60-nation committee agreed, however, to recommend the holding of a special security council meeting—with delegates of foreign ministers of similar rank—to discuss world tensions.

It knocked out the Soviet bloc demand that the meeting be called "without delay."

13 Guardsmen Are Promoted

Thirteen members of Company C, 107th Engineer Combat Battalion, Michigan National Guard, have won recent promotions, Capt. Roy J. Johnson, company commander, announced this morning.

Delta county promotions are as follows: To the rank of corporal—William VanDomelin, Joseph Summers, Gerald Swille, Edward LaCrosse, David Anderson, Edward Millette, Robert Miller, Donald Mayville, Conrad Pratt and Richard Ellingson, and those promoted from private to private first class are Philip LeGault, Gerald Busineau and Arthur LaFave. "Those promoted to corporal to fill vacancies as combat construction specialist, engineer supply specialist, air compressor operator, armorer, first cook and company personnel management clerk," Captain Johnson said. "LeGault is a radio operator and Gerald Busineau and LaFave are pioneer carpenters."

Must Pass Board
In order to qualify for promotions, he explained, enlisted men must pass an NCO (non-commissioned officer) evaluation and promotion board composed of battalion and company officers. They are judged on military training and knowledge of position to be filled.

"The board has set its standards high because it wants to make sure that a candidate is fully qualified to fill a position before he is promoted to it," the unit commander emphasized. "A Guardsman may increase his rank in accordance with his desire to get ahead. With each promotion goes substantial increase in pay in line with a full day's Army pay for the corresponding rating."

In addition to training locally at two-hour drill periods each Wednesday night at the Escanaba Armory, 400 North 23rd street, Guardsmen of all units in Upper Michigan are eligible to attend Army service schools at Fort Belvoir, Va., the "home of the Army engineers" and other camps and forts throughout the United States.

Recruiting Campaign
"We're engaged in a big recruiting campaign now because our turnover is so great—men going into fulltime military service or leaving town to accept jobs—and our strength is low," Captain Johnson said.

Men of draft age, 18 to 25, are exempt from military draft if they are members of the Guard. By joining the Guard, they may serve at home while fulfilling their military obligation to their country and may serve with their friends and neighbors.

Young men who have not received their call to report for pre-induction physical examination are eligible to join the Guard.

The unit drills each Wednesday night from 7:30 to 9:30. The public is invited to watch each drill. Young men interested in joining are asked to attend drill or to talk it over with Sgt. Vernon Rousseau at the Armory any business day between 8 a. m. and 5 p. m.

Proposal To Abolish State Conservation Commission Killed

LANSING — (AP) — The state "Little Hoover commission" today had killed a proposal to abolish the state conservation commission.

The legislative committee on government reorganization refused to approve a recommendation made by a split vote of its citizens advisory committee last October that the department be run by a director appointed by the governor.

Four Changes Advised
Reorganization proposals must be approved by the legislative committee before they are submitted to the legislature. No announcement was made of the secret committee vote.

The committee, however, approved four recommendations of the citizens group and ordered bills or proposed constitutional amendments prepared for introduction in the legislature.

They are:
Abolition of the water resources commission and turning over its functions to the conservation department.

Abolition of the soil conservation committee and transferring its functions to the extension service of Michigan State College.

Appointment of the auditor general by the legislature.

Appointment of the superintendent of public instruction by the board of education.

Twelve New Bills
The committee introduced 12 bills to implement already approved reorganizations.

They included measures to:
Set up a central management agency for state records.

Consolidate all retirement boards into one.

Permit the governor to remove the state police commissioner, now removable by the State Supreme court.

Eliminate the requirement that the state highway commissioner be a highway engineer.

Committee members were displeased with the incorporation of a group of its advisory committee, calling the move the formation of "another pressure group."

There was some discussion of abolishing the advisory committee but the only action was to place the subject at the head of the agenda for the next meeting, the date of which was not set.

Bill Lassman Scores a Hit!

Not long ago we received this letter from Mr. Theodore I. Cooper, of the Marsh Engineering Company, Detroit:

"I wish to take the liberty of complimenting the Michigan Bell Telephone Company on the courteous, efficient and co-operative people they have in their employ. I desire to bring particular attention to Bill Lassman, who today was installing telephone service in our building. He has made several suggestions to us regarding our service, arranging of telephones and efficiency, and I know he has gone beyond his expected duties in being most helpful to us. One thing that pleased me greatly was that he carried a little brush and immediately swept up any dirt due to his work when drilling through our cement blocks and wood. He was most cautious about not causing any damage to anything. It gives me great pleasure to write a letter such as this for any man who has the interest in his work above and beyond his ordinary duties."

It's people who make telephone service good!

Mr. Cooper watches Bill Lassman at work.

Eisenhower As Candidate Must Give Views On Political Issues

GEN. EISENHOWER is now an avowed candidate for the presidency of the United States. His announcement in Paris Monday that he would accept the Republican nomination but would not seek the office clarifies his position. It is now definite that he is a Republican and definite that he will not spurn the efforts of his friends to place his name in nomination.

Gen. Eisenhower is a great American. His talents as a military leader were proved time and again in World War II. That he will be a popular candidate for the presidency is well established by the reaction to his announcement throughout the country.

Graft Revelations Shock Americans

IT'S a safe bet that nothing since World War II, with the single exception of the Korean conflict, has so thoroughly rocked this country as the graft revelations. And, according to reports on the contents of congressional mail from the folks back home, nothing has so shocked and revolted the people.

Democratic party Chairman McKinney recently said that he is sure the scandals will not be an issue of the 1952 campaign, on the grounds that the president and other Democrats are handling the situation, and will clean everything up neatly in short order. This, in the view of most observers, is whistling in the dark with a vengeance. The graft has been going on too long, and too many people in key administration jobs are directly or indirectly involved. On top of that, it was a junior Republican senator, Williams of Delaware, who cracked open the tax frauds and has seen to it that the investigations kept going. And it is an interesting fact that some Democrats who have done valiant work on behalf of high ethical standards in government—such as Senators Kefauver and Douglas—are persona non grata at the White House.

The reaction of the American press to the scandals has been one of anger—just as was the case with the scandals of the Harding administration. As a general rule, the editorial attitude has been "turn the rascals out." This has been buttressed by most of the columnists, who are taking a similar line. And on the factual side, coverage of the news by both press and radio has been excellent.

The big thing, of course, has been the graft in the Internal Revenue Bureau. This has completely overshadowed the deep freeze and mink coat episodes, and for an excellent reason. As Robert Ruark put it, "We cannot understand a billion here, a billion there, because so few of us deal in billions that they just represent a long line of zeros. We cannot understand the deviations of the state department. The good Lord knows we cannot understand what has transpired with prices and ceilings and economics in general, because it is a solid cinch the people who perpetuate them do not understand them, either."

"But there is one thing we know, from Natchez to Mobile, and Memphis to St. Joe. Taxes we know. I know 'em, because I own 'em. You know 'em. You know 'em because they squeeze 'em right out of your tired old take-home, and you never get through the year without fretting about the next."

Everyone kicks at the tax collector as a matter of course, but everyone has believed that Internal Revenue was honest as they come. Now that the Bureau has taken on the smell of a nancient fish, the general public has turned whopping mad. And on the level of general principle, it seems certain that many millions of average Americans feel like Holmes Alexander, who wrote, "No trapp of a foreign invader has no shaken the temple of our freedom like the stealthy tread of thieves who are still at large within the government. And unless we wake up to these dangers, the Communist dream of decaying democracy can become our own nightmare."

The Doctor Says . . .

Nose and Mouth Cause Most Breath Trouble But Food Or Disease May Be the Source

BY EDWIN P. JORDAN, M. D. — — — Written for NEA Service

Again and again the first question published today is brought up in various forms.

Q—For several years I have been troubled by unpleasant breath, and I always have a bad taste in my mouth. This is sometimes eliminated for a short time after I eat. Doctors say they can find nothing wrong with me. I have no sinus trouble and no tonsils.

Mrs. C. K.

A—The principle causes for bad breath and an unpleasant taste in the mouth are conditions around the mouth and nose such as pyorrhea alveolaris and decayed teeth, bad sinuses and bad tonsils.

Also inadequate brushing of the teeth allows food material to decay.

Heavy smoking and the drinking of alcoholic liquors can also produce this condition. Certain food stuffs, particularly those whose odor is eliminated through the lungs, such as garlic and onions, are a not unusual cause for halitosis and bad taste.

Diseases of the stomach or other parts of the gastro-intestinal tract and disease of the lungs are less common causes.

In the case where no definite physical reason can be found, either locally or generally, about all that a person can do is to experiment with reduction in smoking or alcohol or the elimination of certain food-stuffs.

Q—My question is regarding going up and down stairs, and whether it harms the heart or legs. I know that the day after washday, my legs ache.

Mrs. F. M.

A—Going down stairs should cause no difficulty to a person who might have arthritis of the knees or some other disability of that kind. Climbing stairs, on the other hand, takes a lot of energy and increases the work of the heart, and of course, of the legs. People who are in good health are not apparently harmed by a reasonable amount of stair-climbing, but the stairs should be taken more slowly as one grows older.

In anyone who has heart trouble, or notices such effects as Mrs. M. does, it would seem wise to confine the amount of stair-climbing to the necessary minimum.

Q—What would cause a woman in her sixties to have an open sore on the breast which discharges some blood and pus, apparently from the nipple?

A Reader.

A—This is a serious symptom which could mean cancer, and medical advice should be sought promptly.

Q—Please tell me why I want to drink water all the time.

J. R.

A—Excessive thirst is one of the symptoms of diabetes, and while it is insufficient on which to make a diagnosis all by itself, it is reason enough to call for a physical examination, and examination of the blood and urine with this in mind.

NOTE ON QUESTIONS

Dr. Jordan is unable to answer directly individual questions from readers. However, once a week, in this "Q & A" column he will answer the most interesting and the most frequently asked questions received during the week.

Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—The manner in which some senators have pulled wires to secure tax fixes has come up recently in connection with Sen. Styles Bridges of New Hampshire, who is slated to be the new Republican leader of the Senate, replacing the late Senator Wherry.

Certain GOP senators who do not wish to be named, but who believe nothing should mar Republican ability to pin the corruption label on the Truman administration, have dug into the testimony of Charles Oliphant, hastily resigned counsel of the Internal Revenue Bureau. Oliphant testified Senator Bridges had approached him to fix a big tax case in Baltimore involving liquor-dealer Hyman Klein.

Bridges' intervention with Oliphant on behalf of Klein, according to committee counsel De Wind, took place "sometime in 1949." GOP senators have now dug up the interesting fact that Senator Bridges made a speech on the Senate floor on Sept. 29, 1949, urging a pay increase for "good old Charlie Oliphant."

Bridges was then trying to get "good old Charlie" to take the heat off Hyman Klein in a tax case totaling around $7,000,000. So, apparently to carry favor with "good old Charlie," he proposed raising his salary from $10,000 to $14,000. Thus the public would both pay more and collect less taxes.

Note — Oliphant testified that Senator Bridges had approached him through mystery-man Henry Grunewald, a great friend of both Bridges and Oliphant.

GROWING U. S. ISOLATION

Most disturbing development in the U. S. A. to members of the Churchill party has been the growth of isolationism in certain sections. British observers who see the United States during periodic visits may have an advantage in diagnosing popular changes between those visits. At any rate they compare public sentiment today to that just before Pearl Harbor when the United States also was torn between isolation and international participation.

This, incidentally, appears to be borne out by the Washington Merry-Go-Round poll of Republican candidates. At the start of this poll, Taft chalked up his greatest strength in the traditionally isolationist Midwest; Eisenhower his greatest strength in New England, the South and the Pacific coast.

The poll, which is still continuing, also continues to show Taft strong in these areas. In fact, the voting runs almost constant in regard to Taft strength in the Midwest, Eisenhower strength in other areas.

You can vote in this poll by sending a postcard to your favorite Republican candidate, Box 1952, Washington 13, D. C.

REPUBLICAN RFC CHAIRMAN

Harry McDonald, to be the first Republican head of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation in 19 years of Democratic rule, can be counted on to carry on the forthright policies of Stuart Symington.

As head of the Securities and Exchange Commission, McDonald vigorously advised GOP members of the RFC not to O. K. the controversial Texmass loan, warned them that his SEC had not given Texmass a clean bill of health.

McDonald, who believes the public is entitled to know all the facts about big financial deals, used to run a Detroit dairy, was supreme potentate of the Michigan Shrine, got to know Truman because they are fellow shiners, and took a mild shine to Rita Hayworth when she visited in Washington.

ATOMIC ARTILLERY

Though President Truman has been opposed to exchanging atomic information with England, one so-called atomic secret, which the Churchill party has been told, is that our much-ballyhooed atomic artillery is not going to work miracles on the battlefield.

This is not exactly a secret, for the American public will be told the news later—namely, that atomic artillery, while by no means a dud, has been a military disappointment. In other words, while a lot more powerful and deadly than conventional artillery, the new atomic shells will not wipe out armies overnight.

Most significant result of the recent Nevada blasts was that atomic's stalked behind near-by shelters easily survived atomic artillery and baby A-bombs dropped from fighter planes. This convinced U. S. observers that troops in trenches or behind dumps likewise could withstand an atomic raid.

Into The Past

10 YEARS AGO

Washington, D. C.—Heartening word of United States submarine success came from the Far East but there was anxiety over signs that General MacArthur's forces in the Philippines would soon face the full power of growing enemy forces there.

Ransom Racket:

Barbary Pirates, Red Hungary On U. S. List Of Shakedown Bandits

By WADE JONES
NEA Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK—(NEA)—In 1815 U. S. Commodore Stephen Decatur sailed into the Mediterranean with a show of naval strength and put an end to an international shakedown which was costing this country millions of dollars.

Now, nearly a century and a half later, this country has just paid Hungary $120,000 ransom for the release of four American flyers. We paid ransom in another form to the same Red country to free Robert A. Vogeler. And, as we learned from the Barbary pirates, the more ransom you pay the more seems to be demanded.

For years the Barbary pirates of North Africa had been exacting tributes from other nations by seizing their ships and crews. As the merchant fleet of our fledgling country grew, the pirates began raiding our vessels.

Algiers alone had confiscated numerous American vessels and enslaved hundreds of our seamen prior to 1800.

From 1795 to 1802, this country paid out more than $2,000,000 to the Barbary states of Algiers, Morocco, Tunis and Tripoli.

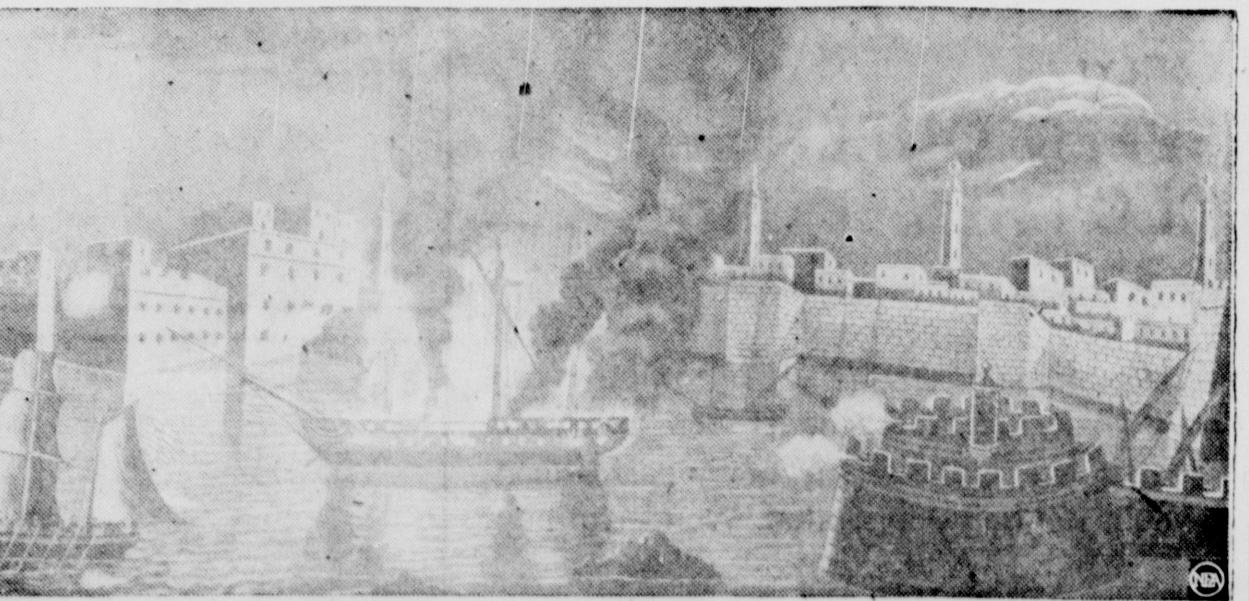

With each concession on our part, the rapacity of the North African governments increased.

Thomas Jefferson was in favor of getting tough about it long before we ever did. Jefferson said a good navy and 150 guns on the Barbary Coast would be cheaper in the long run and do us more good than the money we were handing over to the pirates.

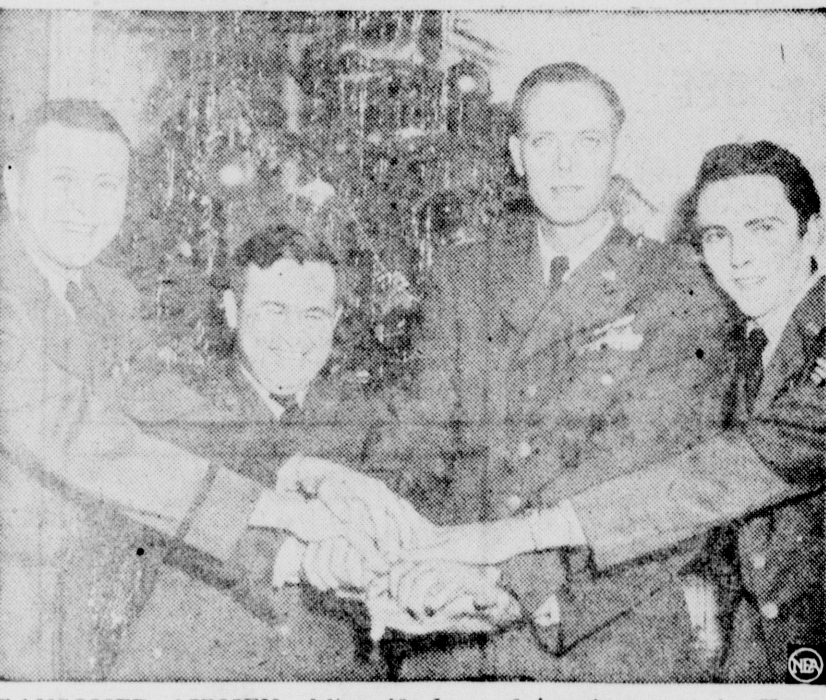

We had one indecisive scrap with Tripoli but it didn't help matters much. Then in 1815 Decatur went in and talked tough. He forced Algiers to abandon all claims to tribute from us, and got indemnities from Tunis and Tripoli for illegal seizures. To all intents and purposes that washed up the Barbary pirates.

Looking back at the Barbary pirates episode, historian James Truslow Adams says some of our actions then seem "disgraceful." But he does commend this country for finally leading all other nations in opposing what he terms "international subsidizing of piracy."

If more guidance is needed on the handling of such a situation, Americans can look back on the famous "XYZ Affair" of 1797, when France tried to put the big bite on us.

EPISODE IN THE MEDITERRANEAN: Before America finally got tough with the North African governments nearly a century and a half ago, we paid out a lot of tributes. Once we even lost a Navy ship—the frigate Philadelphia, which was captured by Tripoli. Stephen Decatur, who later ended the shakedown, took some of the sting out of the incident by sailing the ketch, Intrepid, into Tripoli harbor on the night of Feb. 16, 1804, and burning the captured frigate. This painting from naval archives depicts that historic action.

France was sore at this country over some treaty negotiations. Three unofficial agents of French Foreign Minister Talleyrand suggested to this country that we make a $250,000 gift to Talleyrand, loan a sizable amount to the French government, and pay France an indemnity for criticizing her.

Improbable as all this sounds, an official American delegation in France was prepared to give in on most of the requests when the American people learned about the whole shady business and got good and sore.

In short order, Congress cancelled certain French treaties, suspended commercial relations with France, authorized seizure of her armed vessels, and strengthened our military.

Talleyrand was so upset when his bluff was called that he battled desperately to head off what he thought might become war between the two countries. The matter was finally settled by the convention of Sept. 30, 1800. Tough policy had halted another shakedown.

As late as 1904, Moorish bandits kidnaped an American national, a Mr. Perdicaris, from his home near Tangier, in North Africa. A ransom of $70,000 had to be paid for the release of him and his stepson, a British subject. To strengthen our stand in the negotiations this country sent the warship Brooklyn to Tangier.

In centuries past, the ransom was a fixture of war. In the 100 Years War, King Edward III, of England, improved his administration's shaky financial condition by getting ransom payments of 500,000 pounds for King John, of France, and 100,000 marks for David Bruce, of Scotland.

Probably no one knows how many Americans paid ransom to their Mexican kidnappers in the early part of this century when bandits in our neighboring country to the south were abducting about everything that moved.

Some people were kidnaped as many as three times. Finally we got tough about it. The Pershing Expedition helped put an end to the era of Mexican kidnapping.

Few Americans need or want to be reminded of the wave of kidnappings for ransom which swept over this country in the 30's. The Lindbergh baby, George Wever, haeuser, Charles Mattson, Peter Levine. There were six major ones in 1933 alone. The city of Chicago had 200 in one two-year period—mostly gangsters.

But the tactics were pretty much the same in all cases, whether they took place in Chicago, on the Barbary shore—or in Budapest, Hungary.

MUSICAL MEMORIES—Classical music forever retains its popularity with its own group of appreciative listeners, but popular music must stand the test of time before even the most impressive compositions attain the rating of classic.

"Modern classic" is, therefore, a misnomer, since a contemporary piece cannot be elevated to the classics—although the music critics may so acclaim it. Only time will prove them right or wrong.

The above is a somewhat heavy approach to the subject at hand—Carl Benzinger of Escanaba, his saxophone, and musical memories.

OF THE PERIOD—At a recent meeting of the Escanaba Rotary club, Benzinger entertained with his saxophone, accompanied at the piano by John Greene.

Fact that Benzinger is Northern Motor Rebuilders controller and Greene is cashier of the First National Bank in no way affected their playing.

Benzinger's background is pertinent to our theme of musical memories, so it is necessary to tell you that he once played a sweet sax with the Brown Brothers back in the early 1920's. This sextet toured the United States and in California Carl's ability was recognized by the director of a symphony orchestra. He asked the young musician if he was interested in studying music.

Carl was, but he had two more months on his Brown Brothers contract and was in the East when his contract expired.

Perhaps Carl needed additional study to meet the challenge of symphony, but hearing the familiar old dance melodies of the 1920's as he presented them was most satisfying. More nostalgia there than in Beethoven's Fifth.

THE HAPPY YEARS—Those of us who are old enough to remember the 1920's consider them the happy years, largely because we were younger then than we are now.

While Carl's saxophone poured out such melodies as "Bye, Bye Blues" and "Some of These Days" and "Let Me Call You Sweetheart," memory recalled a period devoted to raccoon coats, the Charleston, bootleggers, and the activities of Al Capone and other gangsters.

In those days the younger generation was considered by the older generation to be rapidly and completely going to the dogs.

The girls bobbed their hair, wore short skirts, and were called flappers; the boys strummed ukeleles to accompany the group in such songs as "Rainbows" and "Marchita." It was the day of so-called "flaming youth."

NOT SO WILD—Somehow the younger generation survived, as it has a habit of doing.

There were romances, marriages and families; the flappers learned to cook and sew and care for children; the "shiks" (synonym for today's wolf) settled down as wage earners and husbands. Life went on as it has since time began.

Carl Benzinger dropped the saxophone in 1925 to take up the more prosaic and steady business of accounting.

The wheel of time kept turning and the Brown Brothers saxophone sextet today is largely forgotten—but the sweet tunes of the 1920's continue to be enjoyed.

TALENT REDISCOVERED—It was last year following the concert visit to Escanaba of the University of Michigan band that Carl's ability with the saxophone was discovered by his friends.

The Benzingers' son, Charles, is a member of the U. of M. band, and following the concert at a party for some of the band at the Benzinger home Carl was persuaded to bring out his saxophone.

Now his name is added to the list of local persons with musical talent who may be called upon to join in an annual benefit concert for the Karas Memorial Bandshell project. Every generation may have its musical preferences, but the love of music is unchanging.

TROUBLE AHEAD

To stick one's neck out. When you do that, you're inviting trouble, or at least you're taking upon yourself the responsibility for any trouble that may develop. The expression, like the corresponding, "to get it in the neck," arose some sixty or seventy years ago from a line popular in vaudeville, "Where did the rooster get the axe?" Answer: "He got it in the neck."

Kalamazoo, Mich.—"Is it proper to use 'loaned' as the past tense for the verb to lend, or must it be 'lent'?"—G. F. S.

Answer—Either is correct. The use of "loan" as a verb dates back to the 13th century and is accepted as good English. Some purists frown upon this use, however, and mark it as being an American usage.

South Bend, Ind.—"Which is correct, 'I never would have thought of it's being she' or, 'I never would have thought of it's being her'?"—Miss B. A.

Answer—Thanks to our flexible language it is never necessary to use a construction about which there can be any doubt. Recast the sentence into some such form as "I should never have thought that it was she."

St. Louis—"In giving the time of day which is proper, 'It is five minutes to five o'clock,' or, 'It is five minutes till five o'clock'?"—Mrs. C. C. B.

Answer—Among the definitions of "to" is, "Until; denoting a time not yet reached." Hence, it is proper to say, "It is five minutes to five o'clock."

Morgantown, W. V.—"What is the correct pronunciation of the middle name of the historian, James Truslow Adams?"—L. B.

Answer—The name Truslow is pronounced TRUSS-lo.

Ask $1,100,000 To Build New City Schools

Vote Feb. 18 On First Step In Building Plan

Escanaba citizens will vote Feb. 18 on a proposed $1,100,000 school bond issue to finance the first phase of a city school building program.

The board of education last night authorized the special election, following months of study and the recommendations of its Citizens Advisory Council.

Construction of one new grade school to relieve over-crowding in the Barr and Jefferson school districts, and the raising of funds toward financing construction of a new senior high school are included in the $1,100,000 proposal.

Purchase School Site

Estimated cost of the grade school is $550,000. The remainder of the proposed bond issue would be applied toward financing a new senior high school building, for which the board has $600,000 on hand in a bequest from the Catherine Bonifas estate.

Purchase of a seven and one-half acre site for the new grade school from Mr. and Mrs. Richard Arnsen of Escanaba at a cost of $11,000 was authorized by the board last night.

The site is located one-half block west of Royce Park, between Seventh and Eighth avenues extending westward from the alley between 19th and 20th streets. The area is 655 feet long and 550 feet wide and meets the Citizens Advisory Council recommendation for a site "ample for future expansion as required."

Retain Bonding Counselors

In discussion the board indicated that the new grade school will relieve present over-crowding in the Barr and Jefferson districts. Abandonment of the Barr as a grade school and its possible use as a community college is considered.

The school board in preparing for the bond issue engaged the firm of Miller, Canfield, Paddock and Stone of Detroit as legal advisers for the legal and financial aspects of the proposed building program.

Following consultations with the advisers the board will meet at 5 p. m. Monday in special session to complete preparations for the bonding proposal.

First Phase of Program

The bonding firm consultants will prepare amortization tables for the proposed bond issue, advise on bonding advertisements, procedures, and other matters in connection with the special election.

Construction of one new grade school and the setting aside of funds toward construction of a new senior high school is considered by the board of education the first phase of a long-range building program. The program looks to the eventual replacement of every present building with exception of the Junior High school, built in 1932.

Action of the board followed acceptance of the Citizens Advisory Council recommendations, a group of Escanaba residents headed by Atty. William E. An-

Study Allows Hens Off Diet

The cost of feeding a laying flock of hens represents somewhat between 40 and 60 per cent of the total cost of egg production.

This finding of a recent poultry feed cost study was disclosed by Delta county Agricultural Agent Joe Heirman.

The rate of production was also shown to be one of the most important factors determining the efficiency of feed use in producing eggs. One study indicated that with feed costing $60 per ton and a production rate of 20 eggs per 100 hens daily, it costs 40.3c to produce a dozen eggs, not counting labor costs. At 40 and 60 eggs per 100 hens per day, the costs were 22.1c and 16.2c per dozen, respectively.

In general, the study found that the higher the rate of production, the greater the efficiency.

Feed Hens

On the basis of this, Joe Heirman advises that layers should have mash available at all times in feeders that prevent waste of feed. Fresh mash should be added at least once a day.

"For every 100 hens," Heirman said, "there should be 15 feet of feeder that permits the birds to eat from both sides. Do not restrict the feed intake of laying hens in any way. Give the layers all they can eat all of the time."

A study, showed that reducing feed intake 12 per cent below the quantity that was eaten free choice reduced egg production about 31 per cent.

Heirman recommends that if whole grain is fed to layers in addition to mash, the grain mixture should be fed once or twice a day in amounts that provide about equal daily quantities of grain and mash. The grain may be fed in mash hoppers or in separate hoppers.

"Oyster shell or limestone grit," he continued, "should be supplied in separate hoppers, except in cases where all the required limestone is mixed in the mash. Insoluble grit may be supplied in separate hoppers. It is needed especially by confined chickens that can't pick up stones and pebbles on the range," he concluded.

says L. T. Hill, Huron, S. D.

NEWLY CLEANED AND treated seed is examined at the Peavey Seed House in Huron by L. T. Hill (left), who farms south of Huron, and Roger Ward, Peavey Seed House manager. "I'm glad Peavey does a lot to promote the value of cleaning and treating seed," says Mr. Hill, "because it means more dollars in the farmer's pocket."

L. T. Hill farms 640 acres south of Huron, S.D., and he talks from his own experience when he says he gets "cleaner fields and better yields" by cleaning and treating his seed grain.

"The Peavey Agricultural Department has done its share to spread the good word about seed cleaning and treating, along with our county agents and state agricultural colleges," adds Mr. Hill. "And right here at the Peavey Seed House in Huron, Roger Ward has helped promote good seeding practices throughout this area."

"Roger's an asset to the community in many ways. He's conscientious, well posted, and always ready to get the answers to any unusual farming problems that may come up."

Reds Lose 1,000 In Vicious Battle

SEOUL, KOREA.—(AP)—South Korean troops killed an estimated 1,000 Chinese near the Panmunjom truce talks site Tuesday in the war's heaviest fighting in six weeks, the U. S. Eighth Army reported today.

But the South Koreans had to give up two small hills west of Korangpo when the Reds hurled about 4,000 troops into the battle of Sasi bulge.

The vicious battle has raged since Dec. 28. The Allied troops were identified Wednesday as infantrymen of the Republic of Korea (ROK) First Division.

An Eighth Army briefing officer said since the fight for the outpost began, 3,076 Communists have been killed, 852 wounded and ten captured. He said Allied losses were "much lighter," but gave no figures.

Pontiac Man Chokes Wife, Takes Poison

PONTIAC, Mich.—(AP)—Hawaiian born Samuel Kekaha, who told police he strangled his wife and then took rat poison and lye trying to kill himself, was in serious condition today.

The 59-year-old factory worker disclosed the two-day-old murder of his wife when he staggered to a neighbor's home yesterday and asked them to call police. He is expected to recover.

The body of his wife, Edna, 32, was discovered in their four-room Royal Oak township home, strangled with a blue denim shirt. Kekaha told officers the slaying followed a quarrel over his attempt to persuade her to drop a divorce action and give up her job as a waitress.

Kekaha was under police guard at Bloomfield hospital for investigation of murder.

The couple had three sons and a nine-year-old daughter.

Truman Suggests Political Recess As War 3 Looms

previous "State of the Union" and campaign speeches Mr. Truman has directed at Congress in other years were almost entirely absent from his address today—until he came to the issue of price and other economic controls.

Nothing On Re-election
"Our stabilization law was shot full of holes at the last session," he declared. "This year, it will be one of the main tasks before Congress to repair the damage and enact a strong anti-inflation law."

The President said his administration intends to "hold the line on prices just as tightly as the law allows."

Still leaving Congress and the nation in the dark on whether he will seek re-election, the President declared:

"This will be a presidential election year—the kind of year in which politics plays a larger part in our lives than usual. That is perfectly proper. But x x x we can find plenty of things to differ about without destroying our free institutions and without abandoning our bi-partisan foreign policy for peace."

Taking cognizance of the "corruption in government" issue which the Republicans have promised to raise in the coming campaign, Mr. Truman said he intends "to see to it that federal employees who have been guilty of misconduct are punished for it."

Phrases like "crucial year in the defense effort" and "the way will be dangerous for years ahead" were threaded throughout the 5,200 word message.

More Foreign Aid
He said he hopes the Senate will quickly ratify the Japanese peace treaty, security pacts with Pacific countries and the agreement to bring Greece and Turkey into the North Atlantic Treaty.

The Schuman Plan, for pooling Europe's coal and steel production, and merger of European troops into a single army, he added, "should be realities in 1952."

The President said the point four program—technical aid to economically-lagging nations—is working in 33 countries, including India and Iran. The program needs more funds, he added, "because there is nothing of greater importance in all our foreign policy."

He scored Congress for not making "adequate progress in building up our civil defense against atomic attack" and declared failure to provide it "has the same effect as adding to the enemy's supply of atom bombs."

The President disclosed that he has directed weapons for Europe "be given a very high priority" and that further arms aid must be supplemented by additional economic aid "to supply the margin of difference between making Europe a strong partner in our joint defense."

Churchill Looks On
With Prime Minister Winston Churchill of Great Britain looking on from the gallery, the President declared that he and Churchill have had "a most satisfactory series of meetings."

"We thoroughly reviewed the situation in Europe, the middle east, and the far east," Mr. Truman said. "We both look forward to steady progress toward peace through the co-operative action and teamwork of the free nations."

Turning to his "fair deal" program, he asked specifically for increase of $5 a month above the present average of $42 in benefits under old-age and survivors insurance with aid to states to help them increase public welfare payments.

He also asked for:

1. Authority to produce "essential power and build the lines we have to have to transmit it to our farms and factories."

2. Further encouragement of explorations for new mineral deposits.

3. Authority to see that "defense workers and soldiers' families get decent housing at rents they can afford to pay."

4. Support for continued building of "essential highways" and other steps to assure an adequate transportation system "on land, on the sea, and in the air."

5. A start on the long-deferred and controversial federal-aid to education program.

6. Training of additional doctors and nurses and expansion of basic public health centers in home communities pending a report by his recently-appointed health commission.

7. Cost-of-living adjustments for those receiving veterans' compensation for death or disability incurred in the service.

8. A strengthening of the system of farm price supports.

9. Revisions of the Taft-Hartley act which he said are "indispensable to sound labor relations and to full, uninterrupted production."

10. Home rule for the District of Columbia and statehood for Hawaii and Alaska.

Coupons For Ike Campaign Begun By Sault Daily

SAULT STE. MARIE.—(AP)—The Sault Ste. Marie Evening News launched a "coupons for Ike" campaign today.

Its aim, as announced in a lead editorial entitled "A Clear Cut Call," is to flood county, state and national Republican leaders with signed coupons proclaiming support for General Eisenhower for the GOP presidential nomination.

The paper printed the coupons along with the editorial, which urged readers to let Republican leaders and Ike himself "know how you feel."

The coupon reads in part: "On Jan. 7, 1952, Ike Eisenhower said he would accept a 'clear-cut call' for the Republican presidential nomination. I want you to know that I am for Ike for president. I am calling on you to make it clear that he is nominated and elected."

The coupons are addressed to Republican county, state and national party officials, care of the Evening News, Sault Ste. Marie, Mich.

Editor George A. Osborn, whose paper has a listed circulation of 9,108, said the Evening News will see that the coupons are sent to the right people, including "the man who should be the next president of the United States—Dwight D. Eisenhower."

Williams To Ask For Profits Tax On Corporations

presumes that the red ink figure will go to $100,000,000 by the end of June, 1953, the end of the next fiscal year.

No Stop Gap Now

Williams said in his budget document "the cash balance of the state's general fund has fallen to a dangerously low point several times during the past 12 months. In fact, the only way the state has been able to pay current bills has been through use of cash collected for 'special purposes,' including amounts later to be paid to local units of governments."

"To put the matter simply, the state is now engaged in running a long list of very large 'charge accounts.'"

"For five years," Williams said, "the signs of danger have been visible. Doubts have been expressed in the past x x x concerning the degree of danger. Last year, however, belated recognition was given to the problem and partial, temporary relief was found. The stopgap used was an increase in rates and removal of the ceiling on the corporation privilege franchise fee. The benefits derived are too little and by far too late."

"Today," the governor said, "my candid predictions of difficulties ahead, stated to you each year for three years, have become harsh realities. The time for palliatives, for half-way measures, is past."

"The day of reckoning is here; the time of crisis is upon us. Unless you wish to court disaster for our state government a fundamental solution cannot longer be postponed."

Local Aid Higher
Williams said the budget was higher because payments to aid local governments, largely beyond legislative control, must rise $21,700,000 to $165,300,000, and:

He recommended a $2,500,000 increase in institutional construction, to a total of $18,000,000, and:

A recent Civil Service pay raise for state employees will cost $6,900,000; and

State colleges will cost $5,000,000 more to operate; and

Mental institutions will cost $4,200,000 more to operate; and

State agencies in general need $6,800,000 more because of inflated costs.

In addition to the $18,000,000 general fund money for institutional construction, Williams asked $20,000,000 for mental hospital construction from the $65,000,000 bond issue for that purpose.

This will include $2,500,000 to expand Herman Kiefer hospital in Detroit for tubercular patients and $135,000 for the Genesee county TB sanatorium.

Highway Pool Criticized
Williams criticized the Republican-controlled state highway department in his budget message.

Those who defeated his veto of 1½-cent-a-gallon gasoline tax increase last year claimed they needed a $135,000,000 "pool" of highway money for the state and local units, he said.

Williams charged the "pool" will be $138,900,000 this year and $155,100,000 next year. This is not general fund money.

Declaring the highway department will have 277 per cent more money available next year than at the end of the war, Williams said he was concerned at the lack of public information on the highway program and the adequacy of department plans.

The ideal winter handbag wardrobe might very well include these bags. Brown satin cylinder bag (upper left) has huge fake topaz top ornament. Paris-inspired suede satchel (lower left) in spiced tones is city bag. Red cowhide carry-all (upper left center) can replace luggage on overnight trip, as can gray flannel briefcase (far right). Satiny calf in tawny shade (lower left center) makes tailored suit bag. Pink moire clutch bag (right center) has polished brass lock, is moderately priced.

National Authority for The Ladies' Handbag Industry; Jewelry by Gerald Sears

By GAILE DUGAS
NEW YORK—(NEA)—In this year of rich fabrics, the handbag you carry may well be fabricated to the suit, coat or dress that you're wearing. New bags in broadcloth, antelope, flannel, checked and plaid wools, corduroy, velvet and even fur make the matter of picking a handbag wardrobe fun.

There is leather, certainly, and sometimes it's used with fabric. Suede becomes partner to calf or patent, fabric bags get leather touches.

Brown is in the bag this year, fashion-wise, and is considered the proper companion for black, brown or gray flannels and for tweeds. There are bags in black-and-brown combinations. There are also bags in charcoal gray, accented with shades of brown or black. Dark and light gray flannel, gray wool broadcloth and gray suede all look new.

The oversize bag has become the right bag for travel wear. But it's also useful to the career girl every day. Daniel Ritter does one of these in charcoal gray flannel with black calf handle at a budget price.

Interior is fitted with zippered pockets and places for papers and notebooks. It's nearly brief case size. Another of these is a red cowhide carry-all by Companion, stitched in white, light in weight and equipped with neat top handles.

These are the bags, by the way, that can take nightgown, toothbrush and make-up for an overnight or weekend trip and thus banish luggage worries.

A tailored bag that's middling-size takes its interest from its tawny shade. In satiny calf, this George Morris design has top handles that are in one piece with the bag. A satin purse in the center is fitted with mirror, comb and coin purse.

Charcoal gray tweed with a furry coating of frosted white turns up in a pouch bag with zippered top by Lewis. Fabric handle gets contrast treatment through an interlacing with brass rings.

The fold-over effect that Paris initiated appears in Margolin's spiced—toned suede satchel with polished brass lock. This is a city bag, its color contrast for dark clothes.

The glamor bag for late-day wear need not be expensive. Lewis, for one, does a clutch bag the favored shape for evening, in pale pink moire at a tiny price. Fully fitted with coin purse, comb and mirror, it closes neatly with polished brass lock.

Jeweled and embroidered bags are important as foils for dressy and semi—dressy clothes. Topaz satin, for one, in a small box bag by Calem gets rich gold bouillon embroidery enlivened with tiny white rhinestones and, in addition, a gold satin lining.

The cylinder bag, as done by Calem in brown satin, has simple elegance. Its lid is enlivened with a huge fake topaz ornament to complement the brown.

Value Of Michigan Farm Land Rises

WASHINGTON — (P) — The value of Michigan farm lands increased at a rate of $100,000,000 a year during the five years ending in April, 1950, figures released by the Bureau of Census disclosed.

Michigan's 17,269,992 acres of farmland were valued at $1,701,439,612 in the spring of 1950, census director Roy W. Peel said. The 1945 farm census showed a value of $1,199,357,123 for 18,392,227 acres.

While the number of farms declined from 175,268 to 155,589, the average size of farms increased from 104.9 to 111 acres. The average farm was valued at $10,965 in 1950 compared with $6,843 in 1945. The average value per acre went up from $65.21 in 1945 to $98.52 in 1950.

Production Goes Up

Dollar production of Michigan farms increased a little more than 29 per cent, going from $366,270,712 in 1944 to $473,611,992 in 1949. Sales of farm products per acre for 1949 averaged $27.42 compared with $19.91 five years earlier.

More than half the Michigan farm revenue was from livestock and livestock products. This yielded $285,911,779 in 1949 for an increase of $52,000,000 in the five year period.

Revenue from dairy products increased from $121,700,000 to $143,100,000 and poultry receipts from $38,900,000 to $41,299,000.

Milk Sales Gain

Total crop returns were $184,669,069 in 1949, an increase of $54,000,000 in the five years. Sales of fruits and nuts brought $30,599,568 in 1949 compared with $32,143,117 five years earlier.

Whole milk sales were 3,432,348,882 pounds, an increase of about 60,000,000 pounds, but butterfat sales dropped from 38,300,000 pounds to 26,600,000 pounds.

Corn harvested for grain increased from 45,300,000 to 64,400,000 bushels; winter wheat from 22,600,000 to 31,500,000 bushels; and spring wheat from 117,000 to 202,000 bushels.

Soy beans harvested for beans amounted to 1,279,178 bushels, a reduction of about 400,000 bushels. Dry field and seed beans (except soy beans) yielded 8,293,088 bushels, an increase of 1,000,000 bushels.

More Electrified Farms

Michigan also produced 14,205,579 bushels of Irish potatoes, a reduction of 4,000,000 bushels, and 703,694 tons of sugar beets, compared with 522,971 five years earlier. Cash receipts from vegetable sales were $17,500,000.

The number of acres devoted to fruit orchards, groves, vineyards and nut trees declined by 40,000 acres to 226,298 acres. The 1949 apple yield was 10,700,000 bushels, an increase of 2,700,000 bushels, and 1949 peach production was 3,200,000, a decline from 4,200,000 bushels. Other fruits included 880,694 bushels of pears, 97,528,048 pounds of sour cherries, 12,752,765 pounds of sweet cherries, and 48,357,678 pounds of grapes.

The percentage of tenancy declined from 11.7 to nine in the five year period. The number of farms electrified increased from 144,260 to 146,902 despite the 20,000 decrease in the total number of farms.

Band Officers Are Selected

Officers of the Manistique Band Association, selected at a recent meeting of the executive board, were announced yesterday as follows:

It was reported that there are a limited number of openings in the band for clarinet, horn, baritone and trombone players. Band membership is limited to men.

During the past year 43 men were enrolled in the band and, including practice sessions, they served a total of 2,576 man hours. Highlight of a successful season was the band's concert at the annual convention of Michigan United Conservation Clubs at St. Ignace.

Report Four Fish Shacks Entered At Jamestown Slough

Four fish shacks at Jamestown Slough have been broken into and several spearing decoys taken, it is reported by Deputy Sheriff John M. Hewitt.

Entry of the shacks was reported Monday to the deputy sheriff. Several boys are believed to be involved. Entrance to the shacks was gained by forcing locks with a meal bar, Hewitt said. The shacks are believed to have been entered some time Sunday.

The deputy sheriff reported that a closer watch will be kept to prevent future breaking and entering at the slough. Many shanties dot the ice there during the spearing season.

In This Corner

With Ray Crandall

St. Joe and Escanaba school officials are a little concerned about the reaction of ardent basketball fans in the coming Trojan-Eskymo contest . . . The game has all the earmarks of a "natural" athletic clash and considerable interest has already been displayed by followers of both teams . . . The tilt will go on Tuesday evening, Jan. 22 at the Escanaba Junior high school gym, starting at 8:30.

Nobody expects to see a gymnasium full of mummies at a basketball game, and particularly a game involving two schools from the same city . . . But it isn't unreasonable to expect the spectators, both adult and juvenile, to display courtesy, sense and sanity before the game, during the game and after the game . . . Sportsmanship should be the keynote of the night's activity . . . If spectators will take their cue from the conduct of the players on the court and benches we're sure that good sportsmanship will be the rule . . . The game promises to be an interesting one and we certainly hope that no "situations" develop to mar the contest in any manner.

We don't want to preach in our column, and we don't imagine that you readers want a sermon from us . . . But with the general sports picture a trifle smeared right now throughout the country—with charges of fixed games, over-emphasis and subsidization—it won't hurt to pause and take stock of ourselves as sports fans . . . We may be at least partially guilty of the evils which have crept into athletics, mainly amateur, by our own conduct and our demands on individuals and teams.

At any rate, we're all for leaving the Escanaba-St. Joseph cage game to the players, coaches and officials involved . . . And we hope, along with school officials, that sports fans will regard the game as just a contest in athletics . . . A contest in which victory and defeat will be accepted with graciousness and good will.

Stephenson Nips Escanaba 45-43 In Double Overtime Period For First Victory

STEPHENSON — (Special) —

The Escanaba Eskymos fell 45-43 in a double overtime clash with the Stephenson Eagles here last night, giving the host quint its first cage victory of the 1951-52 season.

Stephenson rallied from a 30-26 third quarter deficit to knot the score at 41-41 at the end of regulation time.

Escanaba scored first in the first overtime period to take a 43-41 lead. Guard Jim Heiden tallied the two pointer for Coach Baltic's Eskys.

Ties Score

Forward Melchoir fired a long shot with six seconds remaining in the three-minute overtime to again knot the score, 43-43.

The second overtime was barely underway when Stephenson's Dave Hedin took a pass from Ken Hofer and sank a push shot from eight feet to end the sudden-death second overtime.

Hofer paced the Eagles to their first win in five starts with 18 points on eight baskets and two free throws. Escanaba was led on the scoreboards by Heiden with 16 points.

Stephenson outscored the Eskymos from the court, 19 field goals to 17. The Eskys converted nine free throws to seven for the Eagles.

Nip And Tuck

The first half was nip and tuck, with Escanaba leading 9-8 at the end of the first period. Stephenson knotted the score at 18-18 at halftime. A dozen points gave Escanaba its third quarter margin.

The loss was the second in five starts for Escanaba.

The Escanaba reserves dropped a 42-38 decision in the Bee game preliminary.

Hot Hockey Clash Pits Hawks Against Radars At Escanaba Rink Tonight

Gresnick, Parske, Nichols & Co. of Calumet, coached by one Burr Spreitzer, will taken on the up-and-coming Escanaba Hawks in what promises to be a rip-roaring battle at the fairgrounds indoor rink here at 8:15 tonight. Second place will be at stake.

Both Calumet and Escanaba are hot on the heels of the league leading and defending champion Portage Lake Pioneers in the NM title chase and last Saturday night fought to a 2-2 deadlock in Calumet.

Copper Country fans will be talking about that one for a long time, saying it was by far one of the best there in several years, and chances are fans in the Escanaba area will be talking about tonight's game for a long time also.

Calumet is considered the birthplace of ice hockey in the United States. Many players from that area have gone on to big league fame. This year's Calumet Radar sextet is in keeping with the fine tradition of Copper Country hockey, and Escanaba fans are assured of seeing a bangup game.

Two new Hawks will be seen here in action tonight. Dave Serbinski, of Stambaugh, missed the first Escanaba home game and is slated to work on a line with Guy Poce and Buddy Provo tonight. Also, Jim Rose, of Gladstone, will alternate on the second line with Poce and Provo.

Mark and Ted Olson and Joe Ricci form the Hawk first line, and Les Young, Neil Sinclair and Billy Bovin form the third line. Jerry Tagliabacci, Ed Broughton, George Petaja, Lolly Rose and Carl Eastman will share blue line duties.

A feature of tonight's game is the fact that two of the top goalies in the league, Ben Artwisch of Escanaba and Frank Sotlich of Calumet will be seen in action.

Nahma Tops Rapid River 53-46 In Central U. P.

RAPID RIVER—The Nahma Arrows cemented first place in the Upper Peninsula Central cage league here last night by tripping Rapid River 53-46, coming from behind in the final six minutes to turn the trick.

Coach Norman Slough's Rapid River Rockets held a 37-37 margin at the end of the third quarter after leading throughout the game by a close count.

The Arrows went to work in the final period, knotting the score and pulling away at the six minute mark. Both teams lost a pair of players in the final quarter. Pedersen and Johnson fouling out for Rapid River and Sochay and Seymour for Nahma.

Johnson Hits 23

Fans rated the game the best played in Rapid River to date this season and both coaches praised their players following the close contest.

Johnson of Rapid River poured 23 points through the hoop for high point honors. Seymour caged 19 for Nahma as seven Arrow cagers got into the scoring act.

For Nahma it was the fifth straight league win while for Rapid River it was the second loss in conference play.

The Rapid River reserves won a 44-24 game in the preliminary B clash.

Tickets For Esky-St. Joe Game Go On Sale Jan. 15

Sale of reserved seat tickets for the Escanaba-St. Joseph basketball game Jan. 22 will be opened Tuesday morning, Jan. 15, at 9 a. m., it was announced today by George Ruwitech, Escanaba high school athletic director.

The entire downstairs seating facilities of the Junior high school gymnasium will be reserved for adult spectators. Each ticket purchaser will be assigned a specific seat in the bleachers and all tickets will be sold in the advance sale.

Tickets will be sold at the Escanaba Senior high school activities office, the superintendent's office at the Junior high school and at the St. Joe rectory.

School officials announced that about 500 tickets will be placed on advance sale, that being the seating capacity of the gymnasium bleachers. Sections will be marked and seats and rows numbered so that ticket holders will be assured of seating space.

Expect Capacity Crowd

"We anticipate a capacity attendance for the game and feel that the best solution to the seating problem is to place the tickets on sale well in advance of the game. Tickets will be sold on a first come, first served basis," officials of the two schools stated.

High school students of both schools will be restricted to the balconies. Tickets will also be sold in advance to students and if there are any left after all student purchases have been made, these tickets will be offered for general sale to adults. Ruwitech said.

Seating capacity of the entire gymnasium is approximately 1,100. Standing room may increase the actual capacity by another 200.

School officials announced that no phone calls for reservations would be accepted.

School officials added that the number of tickets sold to each purchaser will be limited to eight.

Houtteman Signs Detroit Contract For 1952 Season

DETROIT—(P)—Ace right-handed Art Houtteman of the Detroit Tigers is all signed up today for the 1952 season and ready to go after a year in the Army.

Houtteman, who had shunned a contract offered him Jan. 2, signed for an estimated $22,000 to $23,000 yesterday after a short talk with General Manager Charlie Gehringer.

The club did not disclose actual terms. Houtteman won 19 and lost 12 while earning about $17,000 in leading the Tigers to a second place finish in 1950. Then he was drafted and missed the 1951 season. Meanwhile the Tigers slumped to fifth place.

Houtteman, the fifth Tiger to sign, is one reason Manager Red Rolfe expects his Tigers to put up a better fight this season for a first division berth.

PRIMED FOR ACTION in tonight's Escanaba Hawk hockey clash with the Calumet Radars are two frontliners pictured above, Mark Olson, left, and Joe Ricci. Both are veterans of Michigan Tech college ice play and both have a good foundation of Northern Michigan league competition under them. Olson is the playmaker of the Hawk first line. Ricci's rugged play has been a standout in the Hawks' early season games. (Daily Press Photo)

Denver Pucksters Top Michigan State 7-4

DENVER—(P)—Denver University piled on four goals in the last period to swamp Michigan State 7-4 in a Midwest Hockey league contest last night.

The victory widened Denver's first place lead in the standings. Spartan goalie Del Reid had 35 saves against Denver's scoring rush.

Northwestern Loses Basketball Captain

CHICAGO—(P)—Capt. Bernard Brady will be sidelined for the rest of Northwestern's basketball season because of a fractured right wrist suffered in Monday night's game at Michigan State.

X-ray pictures disclosed the fracture yesterday. Brady, 21-year-old Chicagoan, plays guard.

Olympic Riders Will Not Jump In Norge Meet

ISHPEMING, Mich.—(P)—Declaring that the Norge Ski club of Chicago has discriminated against American skiers in the past while favoring European riders, two members of the U. S. Olympic ski jumping team today said they would not compete in the Norge tournament Jan. 20.

Asking that their names be withheld, the riders said that as far as they knew, several other members of the team would not compete in the meet.

They said their decision not to jump stems from the Norge club's past "slandering" of American riders. They declared the club always has "rolled out the red carpet" for Europeans in an effort to get jumpers from abroad to compete in their meets.

Raw Deals

But Americans, they said, have received "raw deals" time and time again from the club. They stated that as long as the Chicago club was able to get visiting European riders, they all but told U. S. riders: "We don't need you for our tournaments. You can compete if you like, but it makes no difference if you do or don't."

This year, however, they said, all the European skiers are home, practicing for the Olympic games to be held Feb. 14-25 at Oslo, Norway.

"With the foreign riders still in Europe, the Norge club needs the top-notch American riders to put on a tournament. But we won't jump and we're sure several other boys on the squad feel the same way," they said.

Dorow Is Calling Signals In Love

BATTLE CREEK, Mich.—(P)—Michigan State College's star quarterback, Al Dorow, isn't fooling his future mother-in-law when he tries to call signals in the game of love.

Dorow earned $500 Saturday in the Senior Bowl game at Mobile, Ala. He told newsmen he would use the money to buy an engagement ring for Miss Janeth Lamont, a senior at Michigan State.

Mrs. Ross Lamont of Battle Creek, mother of the coed, said, however, her daughter still hasn't said "yes." At least, not loud enough to be heard above a huddle.

"Janeth really hasn't made up her mind yet," said Mrs. Lamont. "But apparently Al has made up his. Really, Al is a quarterback and he's probably decided to call the signals. And as I told my husband, it looks as though he were clearing the field."

Powers Edges Florence 38-36 For Seventh Win

POWERS—A pair of buckets in the final minute of play last night gave Coach Irving Soderlund's Powers Tigers their seventh win of the cage campaign. Florence, Wis. was the 38-36 victim.

The victory was the sixth straight for the Tigers who have not lost since Nov. 30 when they fell 63-49 to Nahma.

Powers got off to a first period 15-10 lead and held a 23-21 margin at the half. The Florence Bobcats came back to outscore Powers 8-3 in a ragged third period and led 29-26 going into the finale.

Winning Basket

In the last minute of play Florence held a 36-34 edge. But Don Bellefeuil broke in for a dog shot to knot the count at 36-36. Seconds later Dave Lawrence tripped the scoring marker from under the basket and Powers had its slim margin of victory.

Bob Lawrence took scoring honors for Powers with 11 points. Dave had 10. Witynski of Florence was high man on the floor with 12.

Powers swamped the reserve Bobcats 34-14 in the preliminary Bee game.

Three Road Trips For Gladstone Cage Quint

On Friday evening they clash with the Stephenson Eagles, the following evening meet the undefeated St. Joseph parochials on their home court and on Tuesday, DETROIT—(AP)— Terry Sawchuk wants his teammates to share credit for his brilliant record as a goalie for the Detroit Red Wings this season.

Sawchuk has an 11-goal lead for the Vezina trophy in the National Hockey league. He has permitted only 66 goals for an average of 1.78. Toronto's Al Rolins is next in line for the trophy. He has a 2.08 average with 77 goals in 37 games.

Rollins was the Vezina winner last year with 1.97.

In his second year at the nets for the Wings, Sawchuk sees other factors that in his improvement in keeping opponents from scoring.

"I'm lucky enough to be playing behind the best defense in the league," he said. "Not only do we have five great defencemen, but the 10 forwards are just as important on defense with their back-checking. In other words, keeping out goals is a 16-man job on this team."

St. Joe Girls Top Cooks Quint 30-27

St. Joe's girl basketball team handed the Cooks girls their first loss in four years here Monday night, winning 30-27.

Margie Rademacher paced the St. Joe quint with 13 points. W. Lester had 12 for Cooks.

Fuzzy Legault paced the St. Joe 7th and 8th grade boys to a 36-27 win in the preliminary with 10 points.

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON JR.

CINCINNATI—(AP)—One of the juicier bits of lobby gossip around the football coaches convention is that Georgia Tech's Bobby Dodd has been approached about taking command of a pro football club in Baltimore.

How far the deal has gone isn't clear, but the professional visitors are especially interested because they're having their draft meeting next week and one of the important side issues may be what's going to happen to the New York Yanks. . . . Indications are that Ted Collins no longer is interested in the expensive proposition of bucking the Giants and may either move the club or sell out. . . . Most eager job-hunting lobby standees (they're like baseball guys in that respect) seems to be Jordan Oliver, whose team at Loyola of Los Angeles was shot out from under him. . . . Oliver, who has a lucrative insurance business and who says Los Angeles is the best town in the world in which to be out of a job, wants to stay in coaching. . . . Right now he's interested in the Washington State post vacated by Forest Evashevski. . . . Pals also are scouting for spots for Ward Cuff, the old Giant who made good in high school coaching, and for VMI's Tom Nugent, whose "I" formation caught on last fall.

EMBARRASSING MOMENT

When the National Baseball congress compiled 1951 selections for the "sandlot graduate of the year," Allie Reynolds wasn't considered. . . . They checked over players from past National tournaments who had made good in the big leagues without ever thinking of the Yankee's double no-hit flinger, and hit upon the name of Lou Kretlow of the White Sox for the award. . . . Then letters from the 15th, travel to Munising. Both St. Joseph's and Munising have scored victories over Gladstone in pre-Christmas games. The Escanaba crew was redhot the evening they met Gladstone and except for one quarter the Braves were never in the ball game. The Munising tilt was slow, uninteresting and low-scoring and Gladstone had numerous chances to win the game in the final period but failed to cash in.

Coach Eldon R. Keil of the Braves said he plans to use the same lineup as played most of the last half against the Eskymos and acquitted themselves in creditable manner.

This lineup has Jim Norrick at center, Roger Beauchamp and Lowell LaPlant at forwards and Martin Becker and Capt. Tom Moreau at Guards. In reserve will be Harold Goodyear, Norman Boutlier, Ed Bunno, Ron Timler and Tom LaLonde.

Michigan Tech Hockey Team Drops 8-4 Game To North Dakota Six

HOUGHTON, Mich.—(AP)—North Dakota's Ray Huot turned the hat trick last night to help his team to an 8-4 victory over Michigan Tech in a Midwest Intercollegiate Hockey league game.

The two teams meet again tonight. Huot scored twice in the first period and got his third goal to open the second. The visitors had piled up an 8-2 lead by the end of the second period before relaxing enough to let Tech get two tallies in the final stanza.

New Coach To Clean House In Cardinals

CHICAGO—(AP)—The Chicago Cardinals, a strife-torn football team last season, are in for a house cleaning by Joe Kuharich.

The husky, 34-year-old former Cardinal guard yesterday was named head coach of the club.

He took over with the gusto and eagerness befitting the youngest head mentor in the National Football league.

"It is unlikely I will keep any of the old assistant coaches," he declared after being assured by Managing Director Walter Wolfner that he has a free hand. "I will bring in three others, and I hope one of them will be Bill Daddio, who used to play with me on the Cards."

Daddio has been head coach for five years at Allegheny College in Meadville, Pa.

Kuharich signed a two year contract for a reported $15,000 annually, $10,000, less than his predecessor, Curly Lambeau.

Lowest Paid The salary makes him one of the league's lowest paid head coaches. But that is the last thing to enter the mind of the dynamic South Bend, Ind., product, former Notre Dame star and honor student.

"I was out of a job when the Cardinals hired me," he said. "Remember, I quit at San Francisco. Besides, I think I'm doing well no matter what. Why, a dozen years ago I was playing for $2,200 a season for the Cards."

Kuharich, line coach for the Pittsburgh Steelers in 1946, went to the University of San Francisco in 1947. Last year his Dons were undefeated. Shortly after Kuharich resigned at USF, the school announced it was dropping football.

The Cardinals reportedly lost more than $100,000 during the 1951 season. Lambeau stepped down two weeks before the campaign ended under front office fire. There was considerable bickering among the coaches during the season.

Boston Bruins In Drive For Fourth Place NHL Slot

(By The Associated Press)

The New York Rangers meet the Toronto Maple Leafs tonight at Madison Square Garden, and had better keep up their recent good work on home ice because the Boston Bruins are making a surge at fourth place.

Boston broke a 1-1 tie with the Black Hawks at Chicago last night after the first period, and got three goals in each of the last two sessions to run away with a 7-2 victory.

This left Boston with 33 points, just one less than the Rangers in fourth place.

Woody Dumart tallied twice for Boston in the third period to run his lifetime major league total to 199 goals. It was the only league game scheduled last night.

ONE-MINUTE SPORTS PAGE

Dick Butler, Happy Chandler's former aide, is very much in evidence here as good-will man for a sporting goods company. . . . Billy Mansfield, 17-year-old son of the Wisconsin baseball coach, was tabbed as a terrific pitching prospect until he broke a bone in his hand playing football. . . . It didn't hand properly and Billy was scheduled for an operation yesterday. . . . The NCAA is investigating the feasibility of establishing an intercollegiate ski championship, which led one Southern scribe to wonder how many scholarships his school would give for skiing. . . . After a fast post-season round of looking over college prospects, Gene Ronzani, the Packers' coach, tabs Michigan State's Don Coleman as a better guard than either Ted Daffer of Tennessee or Bob Ward of Maryland.

TIT FOR TAT

After Sid Gillman, Cincinnati U. grid coach, kept a speaking engagement in Youngstown, O., last month he was snowed in and couldn't keep his next date. . . . The same night Notre Dame's Moose Krause was supposed to talk to another Youngstown organization but couldn't get there on account of the weather. . . . In a quick substitution, Sid did the talking and showed films of Cincinnati's big game. . . . Any prospects change their minds?

Veteran Rider 'Goggles' McCoy Back In Action

NEW ORLEANS—(AP)—The love of a fast horse and flying silks in a winning race has called Granddaddy Jimmy (Goggles) McCoy back to the big track.

And the old boy is doing fine in a young man's race.

Goggles, a grandfather in his 50th year who is racing's oldest active jockey, won his second race in a week at the fair grounds yesterday. The victory gave him a perfect record for 1952—twice around, twice home a winner.

His mount yesterday was Miss Bellevue, a two-year-old maiden, in a claiming race. Oldtimer Goggles and his mount covered two furlongs in 22.4 to return $41.60, $13.20 and $7.80.

Mud In Eye

Goggles rode his first winner at Lexington, Ky., on April 30, 1920. In 1924 he got his nickname "Goggles", and in the doing, he changed the appearance of practically every jockey.

A clod of dirt, dug from a track by the hoof of a horse ahead, struck Jimmy in the eye and forced him out of racing until his eye recovered. He had been back for just a race or two when the same thing happened again. Out Jimmy went for another rest.

And back he came again wearing homemade goggles—eye rims with wires stretched taut across the front.

Those glasses worked so well other jockeys began using them until nearly every jockey wears goggles—thanks to Goggles McCoy.

Bolt Displays Cool Nerves In Winning At Los Angeles

LOS ANGELES—(AP)—Tommy Bolt, with a reputation for dispassionate temperament, has a $4,000 check today to prove that his nerves are ice in the clutch.

The lightly-regarded driving range operator from Durham, N. C., ran away from better-known Jack Burke, Jr., and E. J. (Dutch) Harrison in an 18-hole playoff yesterday for the Los Angeles Open golf tournament's top money.

Despite a seven on the 18th hole, he finished with 69, two under par. Burke had par 71.

Harrison, plagued by an abscessed tooth, faded to 74. As per prior agreement, they split second and third prizes of $2,500 and $1,600—getting $2,050 each. In addition, each will pick up about $310 in admission fees. The players split 50 per cent of the playoff gate of more than $1,850.

Hard Road Bolt, now 33, reached success the hard way, learning the game as a caddy; trying the tough tournament grind but giving up because he couldn't support his family, working as a carpenter for several years to get enough money to go back on tour; finally capturing one of the richest prizes of them all, top money in this $17,500 tourney.

He did it with a back nine that fairly crackled. Bolt birdied three straight holes starting with No. 10, while Burke went one over par on two of them. With startling suddenness he was five strokes in the lead.

From then on, there was little question of the outcome. Bolt got two more birdies, against Burke's one, and even his seven—when he lost two strokes by penalty for shooting out of bounds on his approach to the 18th—couldn't make the finish close.

Bradley Quint Tips St. Louis

NEW YORK—(AP)—Things are looking up again for Bradley University on the basketball court.

The Braves from Peoria chalked up their first major victory of the season last night, a 57 to 56 double overtime triumph over fifth ranked St. Louis. The upset victory went a long way to wipe out the string of the six defeats Bradley already has suffered.

A free throw by Dick Peterson in the closing minutes of the second overtime provided the winning point over the Sugar Bowl conquerors of Kentucky's NCAA champions.

Unbeaten St. Bonaventure, the only other team of the Associated Press top ten to play last night, fared better. The eighth-ranked Bonnies made it 8 in a row by chopping down Canisius, 76-61, before a turnover crowd of 11,977 at Buffalo. Buffalo beat Niagara, 80-78, in the first half of the Buffalo twin bill.

11th Straight

Once-beaten Texas Christian strengthened its claim as the best team in the Southwest conference. The TCU boys won their 11th straight by whipping Rice, 42-30. Texas took Southern Methodist, 40-31, in another Southwest conference game.

Oregon again trounced Washington, 59-45, to take a firm grip on first place in the northern division of the Pacific Coast conference.

North Carolina State, the defending champs, took over undisputed possession of the top rung in the Southern conference. The Wolfpack beat South Carolina, 85-76, as lanky Bobby Speight tossed in 31 points, two more than South Carolina's Duane Morrison.

Mayor Proposes Tax On Michigan's Grid Take

ANN ARBOR, Mich.—(AP)—University of Michigan officials didn't appear too worried today over Mayor William E. Brown's proposal to slap a 10 per cent tax on Michigan football ticket sales.

They took the view the proposal would have to overcome too many obstacles.

This view was expressed last night by a member of the faculty of the university's law school, Prof. Russell Smith. He is a former city alderman.

Prof. Smith underscored the legal problems standing in the way of such a tax. In the first place, he said, the city charter does not give Ann Arbor authority to levy an excise tax. The present charter would have to be amended at an election, he said, to give such authority.

In the next place, he added, assuming the city had authority to levy an amusements tax, it would have to be determined in the courts whether the tax would apply to University activities.

Would Net $150,000 Mayor Brown made the proposal at a council meeting Monday night. It was referred to the city ordinance committee which will report in two weeks.

The tax would net the city $150,000 a year, Brown estimated, with $144,000 of the total coming from University of Michigan football ticket sales.

Brown said half of the revenue would go towards civic improvements and the rest for general operational expenses.

"Ann Arbor provides streets, parking facilities, police protection and other services to football patrons," Brown said. "It is only fair that those people who attend Michigan football games pay for the support of city institutions through such a tax as this."

The University's student newspaper, the Michigan Daily, reported students too ka dim view of the proposal. All students interviewed by the newspaper were quoted as saying they didn't think the tax necessary.

Cesar Brion Provides Test For Young Heavy

ST. LOUIS—(AP)—Cesar Brion of Argentina, well-known around heavyweight circles, provides another test for young Asbury Bascom in a 10-round main event bout at the Arena tonight.

Brion will scale about 197 for the bout. That gives him about a 15-pound advantage over the 22-year-old Bascom from East St. Louis, Ill.

The fight, scheduled for 10 p. m. (EST) will be televised and broadcast across the nation (CBS). St. Louis will be blacked out on the TV hook-up however.

Small Walleyes Running In Bay

Six Delta county ice fishermen were arrested recently for taking undersized walleyed pike.

Included in the group were Louis Cole, Roy Hawkinson, Art Lindahl and John Sepic of Gladstone. Erick Snell of Kipling and Stanley Johnson of Escanaba. Cole paid $10 and costs of $7.80 while others except Johnson were fined $5.00 with costs the same. Johnson is scheduled to appear before Justice O. C. Estenson this evening.

An abnormally large run of undersized walleyes is found this winter. Hook and line fishermen say it is not unusual to catch 20 or more in an afternoon and commercial fishermen are complaining about their nets being full of the undersized fish which have to be released.

Unless they move to other parts of Lake Michigan apparently this area is in for some more excellent walleye fishing in a year or more.

Much Accomplished By Rifle Club During 1951

The year 1951 was one of great accomplishment for the Gladstone Rifle and Pistol club, it was revealed during the annual meeting Tuesday evening at the City Hall.

During the past year the clubhouse at the range was improved, new windows installed, bottle gas installation for cooking and gas lighting put in, blinds made to cover windows in the clubhouse, a range house to store targets acquired, new targets built and other improvements made.

In addition an active program of both rifle and pistol shooting

Immunization Clinics To Be Held In Schools

An immunization clinic for pupils of the kindergarten through the twelfth grade of the Central school is to be held on Tuesday, January 29, at the Central School by Dr. Wm. C. Harrison, director of the Delta-Menominee Health Department.

Pupils of the Buckeye school will receive their immunization the same day at the Buckeye school.

Pupils of All Saints' Parochial school will be immunized at a clinic to be held on Tuesday, Jan. 15, by Dr. Harrison assisted by Mrs. Kay Nichols, R. N.

Immunization and booster doses will be given for diphtheria, smallpox and tetanus.

If a child has been immunized or received a booster shot for these diseases during the past five years, it will not be necessary this year, according to Miss Charlotte Nelson, R. N., public school nurse.

Permission slips are to be sent home with children this week and next and must be returned with the signature of parent or guardian by Jan. 11 for the grade children and by Jan. 18 for junior and senior high school students.

No child will be immunized without written consent of parent or guardian.

Immunization for diphtheria and tetanus consists of two doses given one month apart. Smallpox shots and boosters are only one dose. If the child is absent the day of the first immunization, the first dose may be given the following month. To complete the immunization the child will then receive an appointment card from the Health Department to report at the Health Department in the Webster Annex in Escanaba for the second and final shot.

Did you sell your home during 1951?

If so, this article is of vital importance to you because it tells of an important new tax break that can save you money.

This article also tells you what to do if you sell or exchange property such as your car, stocks or bonds, and similar property not used in a trade, or business.

In other words, you must follow the instructions in this article if you had one or more of the following transactions in 1951:

1. Sale of your home, car, household furnishings, jewelry, or any other personal property for more than you paid for it.
2. Sale of property you have been renting.
3. Sale of securities you bought for investment or speculation.
4. Securities, or non-business loans which became worthless in 1951.

Any of the above transactions must be reported on the separate Schedule D that comes with the blank returns. If the transaction involves your residence you may not have to pay any tax. In other cases, you may be entitled to report a loss that will reduce your tax.

The first step in filling out Schedule D is to determine whether your transaction should be shown under the part marked "Short term capital gains and losses" or under the part for long-term gains and losses.

Here is the rule: A non-business or personal loan which became worthless in 1951 is a short-term capital loss regardless of how long ago you made the loan. The rest of the transactions will be short-term if you held the property for six months or less and long-term if held for more than six months.

If it was your residence that you sold in 1951, read over the special rules on page 10 of the official instructions. Then check over the following additional information and tips:

The term "residence" includes a house, houseboat, or house trailer. If the taxpayer lives in more than one place it must be his principal residence. When part of the property is used by the taxpayer as his principal residence, and part is used for business purposes or rented out, only the allocated gain on that part of the property used as the principal residence is not taxed. The gain on the business or rented part of the property must be reported.

ONE DAY CAN MAKE A DIFFERENCE...

DON'T SELL THESE UNTIL TOMORROW...I BOUGHT THEM JUST SIX MONTHS AGO TODAY!!

For example, if a taxpayer, renting one-third of his residence, sells it for a $6000 profit, he must report one-third of the gain, or $2000, but need not report $4000 of the profit if he otherwise complies with the special rules on sale of a residence.

The "selling price of the old residence" is the amount of cash plus notes or other security put up by the purchaser plus any mortgage, trust deed or other indebtedness on the property at the time of the sale which is not paid off as part of the sale. Commissions and other selling expenses are not deducted in order to arrive at the selling price.

What is the purchase price of the new residence? Include in purchase price the same items as for sale of an old residence. Where any part of the new residence is acquired by gift, the value of such part is not included in determining the purchase price of the new residence.

If you claim the benefit of special rules on the sale of your residence, be sure to attach to Schedule D the information asked for in the official instructions. Even though you haven't purchased a new home by Dec. 31, 1951, if you think you may either buy or build within the required period, you need not report a tax on the profit from the sale of your old residence on your 1951 return.

If it develops that you don't buy or build and occupy a new residence within the specified time, then you must file an amended 1951 tax return and pay a tax on the profit.

Here are some tips to help you fill out Schedule D when reporting other sales besides your residence:

1. After filling in columns 2 and 3 (the date acquired and the date sold) check to make sure all property listed under long-term capital gains and losses was held for more than six months.

2. Put "0" in column 5 (depreciation) unless at some time you rented out the property. You must show depreciation for any period during which the property was rented. Watch for Article 8 for instructions on how to compute depreciation.

3. Remember to include in column 6 the cost of any improvements, such as an additional room, front porch or the like. Do not include the cost of repairs and ordinary maintenance such as painting the house.

Your cost or other basis, which also goes in column 6, is what you paid for the property if you bought it. If it was inherited, it is the fair market value at the time you acquired the property. If it was a gift, include whatever it cost the last person who bought it.

Note that if you end up with a capital loss, you cannot show more than $1000 of it on the Form 1040 even though you file a joint return. If you and your wife each have capital losses, you may save money by filing separate returns. Each would then get to deduct his capital losses up to $1000. Work out your tax both ways and use the cheaper method.

The schedule automatically includes only half of any long-term capital gain in taxable income. This half becomes part of your income taxed at the same rate as your other income until you pass the 50 per cent bracket.

It occurs when your adjusted gross income exceeds $16,000 on an individual return or $32,000 on a joint return. Thereafter, no matter how high your income gets, the tax on the reported capital gain is limited to 50 per cent.

Tax Primer Q. & A.

Q. I bought a car for personal use in 1947 for $2000. In 1951, I received a trade-in allowance of $600 as part payment on a new car costing $2200. Should I report any of this transaction on my tax return?

A. No. While you only received a trade-in allowance of $600 on a car that cost you $2000, none of that loss is deductible. Losses on the sale or exchange of property for your personal use are never deductible.

Q. I made a $5000 profit on the sale of my summer cottage which I then used as part payment of a larger cottage. Do I have to pay a tax on the profit?

A. Yes. You can forget the tax only when you sell your principal residence.
